

Nordialog and Fjord Network launches GroupTalk Push To Talk in Norway

Nordialog (www.nordialog.no) who is one of the largest mobile retailers in Norway has signed a reseller agreement with Fjord Network to offer the GroupTalk Push to Talk (PTT) service for the enterprise market in Norway.

GroupTalk is a Push to Talk service for efficient group communication between users on mobile phones, PCs and 2 way radios. The solution has helped SAS to become one of the most punctual airlines in Europe.

Norwegian mobile users are early adopters of new services and in combination with a high market penetration of advanced handsets opens up a very interesting market for the GroupTalk service. The partnership with Nordialog provides us with a very competent reseller network of mobile services for reaching out to new customers in Norway says Jörn Karlsson CEO at Fjord Network.

Nordialog consists of 28 independent resellers across Norway, that are specialized in mobile services for the enterprise market. GroupTalk is a very interesting mobile service which already has proven its value to our customers and it will further extend and strengthen our offering says Anwar Farrag CEO of Nordialog.
