Telelogic continues to grow in Asia - new office in India

MALMÖ, Sweden, April 18, 2001 – Telelogic AB (Stockholm Stock Exchange: TLOG), the world-leading supplier of solutions for advanced software development, today announced the opening of a new office in India.

"The demand for Telelogic's products remains high in Asia. India, not at least, has seen a very strong growth within advanced software development during the last years. Large customers of Telelogic have significant business in India, especially within development of 3G and wireless systems. It is therefore natural for me to present Telelogic's new office in Bangalore today.", says Michael Atlevi, President, Market Division Asia for Telelogic.

The business in India today employs 10 people and a strong growth is expected during the year. The office will handle all direct sales on the Indian market as well as local and regional customer support. Johan Wilson will lead the subsidiary in India. Mr. Wilson has an extensive experience from the software industry with various positions within sales and marketing at IBM. Prior to his assignment with Telelogic, Mr. Wilson held a position as VP Marketing at the Swedish daughter company of Cincom Systems.

"We welcome Johan Wilson as the right person to lead our fast growing business in India with his broad experience from the software and communication industry.", Atlevi concludes.

Telelogic's largest customers in India include Motorola, Lucent, General Electric, Samsung, Wipro, TATA Consulting, Satyam and CDot.
