

Orc Software launches Orc Hosted – a managed service for trading

Stockholm, SWEDEN, Wednesday, 3 November 2010 – Orc Software (SSE: ORC), a leading provider of technology and services for the global financial industry, today announced Orc Hosted, a fully managed trading services with connectivity to major cash and derivatives exchanges, MTFs and brokers. This announcement marks Orc's entry into the managed services area. Based on Orc Trading technology, Orc Hosted will be offered in parallel with Orc's existing deployed software solutions.

Orc Hosted is a fully-supported trading infrastructure built for robustness, speed, and reliability. Greatly reducing requirements for internal technology support resources, it helps lower operational risks for clients. Orc's service-based approach can also provide time to market benefits, which clients may use for competitive advantage when entering new markets and for extending their offerings.

"Orc Hosted enables clients to focus solely on their trading, by letting Orc manage their technology infrastructure," said Joacim Wiklander, Chief Strategy Officer, Orc Software. "Using Orc as a managed services supplier, clients benefit from our economies of scale and have 24/7 access to our expertise, which enables them to utilize their own internal resources for supporting their core business - trading."

Orc Hosted services include applications Orc Trader, Orc Spreader and Orc Liquidator, together with a wide range of connectivity options for membership and non-membership markets. Orc Hosted can be used both by firms wishing to outsource their entire Orc infrastructure as well as firms looking to augment their existing Orc deployment with new market access.

Availability

Orc Hosted services are immediately available out of Stockholm and London. Further expansion in EMEA, the Americas and APAC is planned for 2011 and will be announced as they come available.
