

The Greener Good Announces Its Weekly Green Event Series In The Store

Local experts will facilitate the classes on composting, natural beauty, healthy home and green living.

The Greener Good, Fort Worth's only green lifestyle product store, announces the schedule for its weekly event series at the new 925 Foch Street location, just west of downtown Fort Worth. The event series is called Its All Good! at The Greener Good and classes are taught by experts in their field. Topics include composting, natural beauty, healthy home, and green living.

Go Green. Save Water. Save $$$ was the first class offered, taught by Deirdre Petty and Debbie Dunbar, both Fort Worth natives, informing people about water conservation and rainwater harvesting.

Our first event was a huge success so we decided to make this a weekly event series to educate the public on ways to incorporate green into their everyday lifestyle, said Liz Johnston, owner of The Greener Good. People are becoming more environmentally conscious and want to learn about ways to do their part. We are thrilled to meet that demand with educational opportunities and to continue classes throughout 2011.

Upcoming schedule of events for 2010 include:

Eat. Compost. Grow.

Saturday, November 20, 2010 from 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Have you ever wondered what compost is? Or how you can do it at your home? This is the ask all, answer all opportunity! Americans throw more than 35 million pounds of food away each year. A banana peel can begin to break down in just a few days. Save your scraps in your compost pile and give your garden and flower beds a real treat! Save money on expensive fertilizers and save our landfills from overflowing with food. Learn what can be composted, how to care for your compost and the benefits compost provides to your garden and flowerbeds. The class is led by Mark Hill, Sales Manager at Fort Worth's premier gardening distributor, Harvest Supply. Mark brings over 30 years experience with Texas gardening, organic gardening and composting. Bring your questions, get some answers!

All Natural Beauty.

Saturday, December 4, 2010 from 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Skin is our largest organ and provides a direct pathway to our bloodstream. Make sure the products you are applying directly to your skin are healthy and safe. Stop by to learn about all natural skin care and 100% pure crushed mineral makeup. Try a sugar or salt scrub and get a free professional makeover while you are here! The event is led by Susan Svec. Susan is a firm believer in the power and importance of natural skincare, Susan started Susans Soaps & More after experimenting with soap making for personal use and gifts. Susans business is based in Scurry, TX. Mahya Mineral Makeup is 100% pure crushed minerals with no preservatives, oils, talc, phthalates or bismuth. Mahya has been based in Dallas since 2001 working to educate consumers about the importance of all natural beauty. Come learn about mineral makeup and get a free professional makeover while you are here!

The Sustainable Home.

Saturday, December 11, 2010 from 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Providing a safer, healthier and more efficient home has never been more accessible. There are products and services all around us to make our homes greener. Get tips and guidance about products, services and lifestyle choices that aide in living a more responsible, sustainable lifestyle. The class is led by Jyl Dehaven. A true asset to the DFW area, Jyl is the CEO of Green Urban Development, Principal at Going Green USA, Co-Founder of Green Collar Vets, Founder of Jyls
