IBS gets AAA rating from Dun & Bradstreet

IBS has received the highest credit rating, "AAA", from Dun & Bradstreet, the international credit rating company. According to D&B, only a limited number of Swedish companies has obtained AAA rating during the last 12-month period, and IBS is one of them.

- This is a consequence of IBS' strong financial position, says Magnus Wastenson, VP Marketing, IBS AB. Financial strength has become a crucial selection criterion when companies look for suppliers of new business software. Many IT companies have, in contrast to IBS, suffered major losses over the last few years, which makes credit worthiness and financial key figures all the more important when customers choose suppliers, says Magnus Wastenson.
