

Nolato AB (publ) press release 2 February 2011

Nolato Medical transfers know how to US company

Nolato Medical is excited to announce the addition of liquid silicone injection molding to its US facility in Baldwin WI, Nolato Contour.

Nolato Contour is currently adding its third clean room, a Class 7 clean room that will accommodate the new liquid silicone injection molding machines. Completion for the building and equipment expansion is scheduled for the spring of 2011.

The new liquid silicone injection molding service is built on transfer of technology and know how from Nolato Medical in Sweden. Nolato boasts over 30 plus years of liquid silicone and thermoplastic injection molding experience for complex implantable and non-implantable medical products. The company has also established a strong reputation in its ability to over-mold silicone to thermoplastic components.
