Press Release

Technology Nexus AB (publ.) lands assignment from JM AB to develop the company's new Web site.

This assignment will give Technology Nexus, hereafter called Nexus, complete responsibility for development of the new Web site JM.SE. The project is the first step in the development of JM's new platform for the Internet. This platform will contain advanced functionality for the administration of information, so-called Content Management.

The platform will also provide a foundation for more effective utilisation of JM's Intranet, and shall also enable future Extranet activities for Business-to-Business solutions. This places incredibly high demands on security and functionality.

"This order confirms our position in the market as a leading, comprehensive supplier of secure e-commerce solutions. Nexus has, through several development projects, built a unique expertise base with regard to Web systems that place high demands on security and system integration," says Mikael Jacobsson, CEO, Technology Nexus AB.

"Internet is one of our most important communication channels to our customers and also investors, analysts and many other interested parties. Therefore we do forcefully invest in this technology, in order to give our customers a better service. Furthermore we see several new and interesting business opportunities with Internet based technology.", says Lennart G. Henriz, Deputy CEO, Business Support, JM AB.
