This Presentation speaks as of 5 June 2008. Neither the delivery of this Presentation nor any further discussions of the Company with any of the recipients shall, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the affairs of the Company since such date.

Background for the proposed rights issue

- The Board of directors has in a board meeting held on 30 May 2008 proposed to call for an extraordinary general meeting to be held on 17 June 2008 to resolve a Rights Issue of shares in Norwegian Property to existing shareholders. The Rights Issue has been fully guaranteed by a consortium of underwriters
- The proceeds from the rights issue will a) finance the settlement of the Norgani Hotels acquisition to the other shareholders in Oslo Properties AS (“OPAS”) and b) strengthen the company’s balance sheet (LTV down to approx 70% from current level of 80%) in order to enable the company to capitalize on the strong underlying development in the office market in Norway and the hotel markets in the Nordic region
- In order to limit unnecessary dilution for the existing shareholders the rights will be tradable and listed on Oslo Børs
- Norwegian Property has over a period negotiated with a potential buyer group of Norgani Hotels but has now terminated this process
- Norwegian Property plans to maintain ownership of Norgani, but the company has been contacted by several attractive potential partners and /or buyers of Norgani and will continue to investigate these opportunities in order to maximize shareholder values

Background on Norgani and Norwegian Property

- Norwegian Property entered the hotel market through Norgani in September 2007. The main reasons for the acquisition were:
 - High growth in the hotel market
 - Low risk due to stable market conditions and a very attractive contract structure
 - Long contracts with solid tenants
 - Guaranteed minimum rent levels at 65% of run rate 2008
 - More attractive yield levels than other property segments
- Since Norwegian Property made the investment in Norgani in September 2007, the operational performance in Norgani have been stronger than expected:
 - With a RevPAR* growth of +12-16% for Norgani hotels per April 2008, the company's hotels significantly beat the average market growth
 - Rental growth in Norgani in the 1st quarter 2008 was up 20.6% compared to 2007
 - Norgani is valued at an attractive net yield of 6.8% and is highly cash positive for Norwegian Property going forward

*RevPAR = Revenue Per Available Room

Hotels – RevPAR

Growth for Norgani hotels outpaces market growth

2008	RevPAR () Jan - Apr	RevPAR Norgani () Jan - Apr	RevPAR () Jan - Feb	RevPAR Norgani () Jan - Feb	Share of revenue ()
Norway	8.3%	12.8%	11.8%	14.3%	23%
Sweden	6.7%	12.3%	6.4%	9.6%	45%
Finland	n/a	16.1%	9.7%	17.9%	28%
Denmark	n/a	-9.7%	Occupancy +2.4%	-18.9%	4%

(*) Market RevPAR as reported by official statistical data

() RevPAR reported by operators for hotels owned Norgani Hotels

() Based on allocation of run rate (mnok 819)

- Market growth continue to be strong (market data for Denmark and Finland per April not published as of completion of this presentation)
- The Norgani hotels have had a significantly stronger growth than market growth

Background on Norgani and Norwegian Property

- Norwegian Property's main strategy is to be exposed to the hotel sector through Norgani. However, due to the short term financing needs, Norwegian Property has explored the possibilities of other strategic solutions:
 - 2 May 2008: Norwegian Property ASA/Oslo Properties AS has received an offer for Norgani Hotels AS. The offer represented an enterprise value of NOK 11.2bn, substantially above the NOK 10.6bn acquisition price in September 2007
 - 21 May 2008: Norwegian Property confirms that it is still in process for reaching a final share purchase agreement, but has experienced some delays caused by more detailed due diligence work than expected in phase one and buyers' formal financing. The exclusivity period granted in favour of the potential group of buyers has expired. Norwegian Property has received interest for Norgani also from other parties. These initiatives will be further considered in parallel with the original alternative
- 30 May 2008: Norwegian Property has ceased the current negotiations with potential buyers of Norgani
- Norwegian Property plans to maintain ownership of Norgani, but the company has been contacted by several attractive potential partners and /or buyers of Norgani and will continue to investigate these opportunities in order to maximize shareholder value

Settlement of debt/options in Oslo Properties

- A rights issue with pre emptive rights to current share holders is considered to be the most shareholder friendly way to settle the debt in Oslo Properties due in July 2008:
 - Secure the payment obligation to EQT/Scandic and other share holders in time
 - Fair allocation to current shareholders in the rights issue
 - Limited dilution to current shareholders
 - Strengthen the equity ratio of the company going forward

- A share issue to EQT/Scandic would be:
 - Highly dilutive to existing shareholders. The dilution effect is expected at 8% (NOK 5 per share)
 - Share price risk as the averaging period coming up in late June could decrease the issue price further and dilute current shareholders even further
 - EQT/Scandic is not a real estate investor and may cause a selling pressure in the share for a considerable time if settlement in shares

Dilution of existing shareholders

* NOK 31 per share used as issue price regarding EQT issue (NOK 32 per share less 3% discount)

1) Gross rent 2008E, for Norwegian Property based on run-rate per 1 January 2008, for Norgani based on 2007 adjusted for 5% RevPAR excluding sold properties or agreed sold properties

2) Net rent = Gross rent 2008E, adjusted for property costs (6% in Norwegian Property and 10% in Norgani)

3) The market rent for Norwegian Property has been estimated by DTZ Realkapital to be 16.6% above current payable rent

4) In May 2008 NPRO announced the sale of Nedre Holmegate 30-34 in Stavanger with a book value of NOK 71 million (sold for NOK 75 million)

5) Based on exchange rates as of 31 March 2008

6) Not including OPAS acquisition financing (for details see NPRO Q1 2008 presentation in the Appendix)

Share Price development

- Capital Structure focus: Since February 2008, focus has been on the challenges regarding the acquisition financing in connection with the Norgani acquisition with maturity starting from July 2008
- The share price has underperformed the Nordic Real Estate universe by 40% and the European universe by 30% since February 2008
- In order to price Norwegian Property at the same net yield as the start of the year with NOK 2bn in new equity, the share price would be approximately NOK 46 per share

Since year end 2007	NPRO	Nordic	EPRA
Market cap	-39 %	4 %	5 %
EV	-10 %	2 %	3 %
Share price year end	65,25
Share price at same yield with NOK 2bn in new equity	46,40
Implicit yield year end 2007	5,8 %	5,8 %	5,2 %

Norwegian Property – Market rent Nordic and Europe

- Norwegian Property is currently priced (@ share price 32) at a net yield (implicit) of 6.6%
- European real estate companies are priced at an average implicit yield of 5.2% (2008E NOI/EV)
- Interest rates are higher in Norway compared to the rest of Nordic and Europe
 - NOK 10 yr SWAP: 5.67%
 - EURO 10 yr SWAP: 4.83%
 - This requires higher yield for an investor
- However, the upside potential in rent levels at expiry is substantially higher in Norway than in the Nordic region and Europe
 - NPRO's portfolio is currently estimated to be 16.6% under-rented according to the external appraisers
 - Market to market yield 7.0%

■ Oslo

- Vacancy at around 4% and stabilising
- The forecast is stable through 2009
- New construction may start pushing vacancy slightly higher in 2009
 - Bjørvika continues to encounter obstacles
- Expected rental increases in 2008 and 2009, but lower growth rates

■ Stavanger

- Vacancy around 1.5 – 2.0 %
- Continued booming markets
- Development projects on drawing table

■ Property transactions

- Significant number of projects in market
- Yields trending upwards on properties other than 'prime prime', especially less attractive properties and properties with long term leases
- Rental increases to some extent neutralising effects

Industrialising facility management on office portfolio

- 6-year agreement (+2+2 years) for the management and operation of the office portfolio. NEAS assumed responsibility from 1 April 2008.
- The agreement secures future ownership costs for the term of the contract at 10 – 12 per cent below the current levels, while quality of service is maintained.
- Norwegian Property maintains the customer contact and will be the negotiating and contractual partner for the tenant on rental agreements. The tenants will get access to a new range of services.
- Norwegian Property targets similar agreement for hotel portfolio

NEAS is the leading Norwegian Facility Management company.

NEAS has an ambition to further expand in Norway and the other Nordic countries.

In 2007, NEAS generated revenues of about MNOK 325.

NEAS has more than 300 employees and operates around 1 500 properties comprising approx. 4 million m2.
