Volvo's Group film won gold in New York

Volvo's new Group film won an award at this year's edition of the New York Festivals advertising competition in New York. The film, which was produced by Stark Corporate Communication, was awarded the "Gold World Medal" title in the Public Relations category.

The objective of the film is to introduce the Volvo Group as the world-leading company in transport solutions. The New York Festivals has been organized for 54 years and the competition has an international network, with representatives from more than 65 countries.

"We are delighted that the Group film has also been acknowledged by the New York Festivals. Earlier, the film received an award at the Cannes Corporate Media & TV Awards. It has been positively received wherever it's been shown," said Mats Nilsson, Vice President Brand Management in the Volvo Group.
