NCC leases 2,600 square meters of space at Kista Science Tower

NCC Property Development has signed agreements with additional companies regarding the leasing of office premises in Kista Science Tower. Including these leases, approximately 40 percent of Kista Science Tower has been leased.

Portwise is to relocate from Högbergsgatan in central Stockholm to Floor 22 of Kista Science Tower after the summer. PortWise represents the very cutting edge of Secure Socket Layer (SSL) VPN and remote authentication solutions. The company develops and provides services for customers with high requirements for secure, clientless and remote access to corporate applications, regardless of time, place and device.

Component Software is a Scandinavian center of excellence that supplies innovative solutions for access to business-critical data, thereby providing aggressive decision-making support by utilizing operations-related data and knowledge via the linking of internal and external databases, applications and business processes with customers and suppliers.

Component Software will lease premises on Floor 15.

“NCC and Kista Science Tower offer modern and flexible premises. We are noting significantly increased interest in leasing premises here,” says Erik Eken, head of property development at NCC Property Development

The following tenants have signed leases and moved into premises at Kista Science Tower: Unisys, Symantec, Realab, Handelsbanken, MentorGraphics, ZTE Wistron, Symsoft, Etac and Sprint. In addition, about ten companies have moved into Kista Science Tower's Tower Office Suites.
