Qualification rules for inclusion in Most Traded

Shares included in the Most Traded segment will be determined on a half-yearly basis. The requirements are that trading in the company's shares during the previous twelve-month period exceeds SEK 6 billion (the equivalent of SEK 24 million per day) and that the company, at the end of the calculation period, has a market value exceeding SEK 8 billion. The calculation period refers to the last twelve months, with closing dates May 31 and November 30. Implementation takes place on the first trading day of each half-year.

In special cases, a new company may be included in the Most Traded segment, if it is deemed highly probable that the criteria set forth above can be fulfilled.

Industry classification for ATTRACT40, related to market value

As of May 31, ATTRACT40's total market capitalization was SEK 376 billion, compared with SEK 326 billion on November 30. The Consumer Discretionary industry continues to dominate ATTRACT40 during the last six months of 2004. This is mainly due to the fact that Hennes & Mauritz AB, whose market value accounts for 36 percent, is included in the segment. One new sector, Energy, will appear in ATTRACT40 due to the inclusion of Lundin Petroleum AB in the segment. The sector that has increased the most, from 3 percent to 6 percent, is Consumer Staples.

Rules for qualification for inclusion in ATTRACT40

1. The company's (the most actively traded share series) turnover rate during the most recent six-month period, adjusted to reflect the free float ¹, must be one of the forty highest on the Stockholmsbörsen's O-list.
2. Companies that do not fulfil the turnover rate requirement may still be traded on ATTRACT 40 if trading in a company's shares is so extensive that, had it been included in the A-list, it would fulfil the "most actively traded" requirement. ²
3. At the end of the measurement period the company must have a free float of at least SEK 500 m.
4. The company must provide market information in English.
5. Companies on the observation list are not available for trading on the ATTRACT 40. If a company is the subject of a public offer, this may prevent inclusion in ATTRACT 40.
6. In certain special instances newly listed companies may be included in ATTRACT 40. In order that the Stockholmsbörsen can approve a company's immediate inclusion in ATTRACT 40 it must be considered highly likely that the basic quantitative criteria set out above will be fulfilled.

Selection takes place half-yearly and is based on statistics for a six-month period ending one month before each full and half year-end.

The rules for qualifying for the A List Most Traded segment will change in connection with the next update of the segment at year-end 2004.

Information about all of the companies in, and the qualifying rules for, each of the segments is available at www.stockholmsborsen.se

² The "most actively traded" requirement is that average daily turnover must exceed SEK 3 billion during the six-month period and that the company's market capitalization must exceed SEK 8 billion.
