New Head of Lindex's store operations in Sweden appointed

Lindex has decided to strengthen its Human Resource and Store Operations functions in Sweden by splitting the former joint organisation into two separate sections which are included in the Group Management.

The former Head of the joint function, Pia Karlsson, will assume responsibility for the Human Resource function.

Per Uebel has been appointed new Head of Store Operations. He is currently Regional Manager of H&M's stores in the Munich region and has held a number of leading positions in the H&M Group since 1989.

"Per Uebel's experience in a number of leading positions within H&M is ideally suited to the strong development phase that Lindex is currently in the midst of," says Hans Johansson in a comment.

Per Uebel, 33, who will be located in Lindex's office in Alingsås, will be Head of Lindex's stores in Sweden. He will join the Company in the autumn.
