

Sven-Christer Nilsson new board member of i3 micro technology

Sven-Christer Nilsson has joined the board of i3 micro technology. His contribution of competence and vast experience from the telecom and IT industries will add further strength to i3 during their global expansion.

"i3 is a very exiting company in a rapidly expanding growth market. The long-time promise of Triple Play is finally happening as data, voice and video is coming together. With leading edge products and rapidly increasing sales, i3's future looks very bright," says Sven-Christer Nilsson, new board member of i3 micro technology.

Sven-Christer Nilsson has over 30 years of experience from the IT and telecom industries. A former managing director and CEO of Ericsson, Sven-Christer Nilsson is also a board member of market leading companies like the Nordic and Baltic telco TeliaSonera, the security appliance company ASSA ABLOY and CEVA Inc., which develops systems and software for micro electronics in mobile phones.

"Sven-Christer Nilsson has an impressive track record in the telecom business and an extensive network which is valuable for i3," says Johnny Sommarlund, chairman of the board for i3 micro technology. "i3 is in an expansive phase and I'm fully convinced that Sven-Christer Nilsson's experience will contribute to an even faster expansion on the world market. Having Sven-Christer on the board will be a valuable asset."

i3 develops and sells customer premises equipment for advanced triple play services; Internet access, Voice over IP, IPTV and Video on Demand.
