Telelogic chosen as strategic supplier to leading German car electronic manufacturer

MALMOE, Sweden, August 4 , 2000 – Telelogic (Stockholm Stock Exchange: TLOG) has today received a large order from Temic Telefunken microelectronic, Nuremberg/Ingolstadt, one of the leading suppliers of car electronics in Germany. Temic has made a strategic decision to use Telelogic's tool, SCADE, for the development of their safety critical components, like airbag systems. Telelogic will during a four-month period support the technology transfer with training sessions and consulting.

"Telelogic is step by step building a leading position within the automotive industry.", says Anders Lidbeck, President & CEO for Telelogic. "Our development tools are well suited for the advanced software development challenges the automotive industry is facing. The choice of development tools is becoming more strategic and we will probably see more deals like the one with Temic in a near future."
