■ Programme for SEK loans against collateral

In a programme of regular auctions, the Riksbank will offer three-month SEK loans to the monetary policy counterparties. Starting on 10 November, the loans will be offered at regular intervals of approximately two weeks.

"We aim to make it clear and predictable that the Riksbank will take measures when needed. By announcing in advance the dates at which it will provide loans in the period ahead, the Riksbank will create predictability and thus better possibilities for the banks to plan their liquidity supply," says Governor Stefan Ingves.

The loans will be offered in an auction process and have maturities of approximately three months. The minimum interest rate will be the current repo rate with a supplement of 0.25 percentage points, unless otherwise decided by the Executive Board.

Precise terms for each auction will be published at least two days before the auction. The announced amounts will take into account the prevailing market conditions and the outcome of previous auctions.
