Carnegie strengthens its research and equity sales

Carnegie has been ranked at the top for many years within research and equity sales in the Nordic countries. Carnegie is now further strengthening the business area with the following new recruitments: Björn Jansson, Henric Falkenberg and Lars Wallin, all from SEB Enskilda.

Björn Jansson and Henric Falkenberg will together be Co-heads for the Securities business area, where Björn will focus on research and Henric on equity sales. These roles are similar to the ones they had at SEB. Lars Wallin, currently Head of equity sales at SEB in Stockholm, will be active within Carnegie's equity sales in Stockholm.

"These recruitments are part of our initiatives within the Securities business area and complement its already strong operations. We are very pleased to be able to recruit some of the industry's most experienced and respected persons. All of the recruits have been recognized for excellent performance in external surveys and will make a great contribution to Carnegie's future development," says Niklas Johansson, acting President in a comment.
