SaabTech Systems receives order for 8.3 million Euros from Finnish Navy

SaabTech Systems has received an order from the Finnish Navy for a Radar and Optronic Fire Control System, Ceros 200 FCS. Contract was signed on 20th of December 2001.

The system is of the same type as ordered by the Swedish FMV for the Visby corvette program. The system will be installed on the new Sqadron 2000 vessels. Deliveries will start in 2004. The system is an advanced Fire Control Subsystem suitable for integration to any Command and Control System.

Saab is one of the world's leading high-technology companies, with its main operations focusing on defence, aviation and space. The Group covers a broad spectrum of competence and capability in systems integration.
