Combitech Systems signs consultancy agreement

Combitech Systems has signed a general agreement regarding consultant services within R & D with one of the world-leading suppliers in the telecom area. The agreement is valid until the end of 2006.

"We are extremely pleased and proud to have won this order with the Ericsson Group, and it provides further proof of the attractive, advanced consulting services we can offer in the field of telecom. The order gives us the chance to considerably increase our cooperation with the entire Ericsson Group," says Christer Hoberg, President of Combitech Systems.

Combitech Systems sells services related to the development of embedded real-time systems with units at around ten locations across Sweden. Combitech Systems operates in four strategic business areas: Automotive Engineering, Industrial Automation/Medical Technology, Telecommunications and Defense Technology. Combitech Systems is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Saab AB and is part of the AerotechTelub business unit. The company has approximately 200 employees.

Saab is one of the world's leading high-technology companies, with its main operations focusing on defense, aviation and space. The Group covers a broad spectrum of competence and capability in systems integration.
