CORRECTION

Following a story in the February edition of the Nautilus Telegraph regarding the donation of a minibus for the Sailors' Society, we would like to apologise for an error in the information. The minibus was provided for by a grant given by the Maritime Charities Funding Group, and Zodiac Maritime donated the running costs for two years.

We would like to apologise again for the error, and thank both the Maritime Charities Funding Group and Zodiac Maritime for their continued support.

Notes to Editors:

The Sailors' Society is an international charity that provides a personal lifeline for seafarers throughout the world. Existing to enrich and enhance the well-being of the world's 1.2 million seafarers, the charity offers practical help, emotional and spiritual support and, when in dire need, financial assistance and family liaison through our Port Chaplains and Seafarers' Centres. Our Port Chaplains visit thousands of ships every year, directly addressing the needs of seafarers - irrespective of a person's belief or nationality - as well as maintaining vital links within the Ports that they operate.

The Sailors' Society is backing the IMO Year of the Seafarer campaign with a new fundraising drive asking for just £1 for every seafarer the charity aims to support in 2010
