

InnKap 4 Partners LP invests SEK 29.5 million in Gammadata AB to acquire shares and establish a long-term relationship

Gammadata is a leader within applied physics and operates within three areas; high end surface analysis instruments and vacuum equipment (VG Scientia), nuclear physics instruments that detects nuclear explosions (SAUNA Systems) and agency sales in the Nordic region of instruments from well-known brands (Gammadata Instruments). The Gammadata group was founded in 1986 by a group of physicists and research scientists from Uppsala University.

Gammadata Group is established as a leader in the three areas of operations and serve customers across the globe. “We are very pleased to have InnKap 4 Partners as a new owner. We expect InnKap to support our promising plans, and to help us to take Gammadata forward”, says Jan Edhäll, CEO at Gammadata.

InnovationsKapital invests in Nordic high-tech companies with strong growth. “Gammadata is a very interesting company with a unique product offering based on Nobel price winning technology. The company has a strong management team and we see this as a great opportunity to invest in a company with good growth, profitability and cash generation”, says Martin Falkevall, responsible for InnovationsKapital’s investment in Gammadata.
