

Lifestyle roadshow encourages disabled to try something new

A new lifestyle roadshow aimed at attracting those with mobility difficulties, wheelchair users and their carers will be stopping off at Hannahs at Seale Hayne near Newton Abbot, Devon on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th June.

The roadshow, promoted by leading wheelchair accessible vehicle manufacturer Gowrings Mobility is designed to provide essential advice at exciting UK venues with the accent on keeping mobile and getting people with disabilities involved at exciting venues across the country.

Part of the Dame Hannah Rogers Trust, Hannahs at Seale Hayne is run by adult users who have a physical and/or learning disability and is set in the picturesque Devon countryside. It is an innovative and highly successful front runner in developing the lives of young people with both physical and learning difficulties.

Together with Hannahs at Seale Hayne, The Gowrings Mobility Matters Roadshow will be combining essential advice with a great day out and has partnered with the Association of Wheelchair Children (AWC) who will demonstrate some inspiring wheelchair skill building and activities to join in with on the 22nd and 23rd of June.

In addition the roadshow will be joined by disabled holiday providers Enable Holidays, adaptive clothing providers Rackety's Clothing, and home delivery service Oakhouse Foods.

Sales and Marketing Director Janet Seward says Hannahs at Seale Hayne is a vibrant, inclusive, innovative space with plenty to inspire! We're sure that the roadshow will not only attract people to experience something that they may otherwise not have considered and to have a great day out, but that it will also be especially useful for carers, older people, healthcare workers and students.

The Gowrings Mobility Matters Roadshow has already stopped off at The Cotswold Wildlife Park – Oxfordshire, Beale Park Reading and The Coventry Transport Museum.

If you haven't joined them yet, then now's the time to plan a fun Summer day out!
