

Interim Report

JANUARY – JUNE 2010

"During the first quarter, we concluded that the market was starting to recover from the financial crisis. After closing the second quarter, we can see that this conclusion turned out to be correct since our margins and profit before and after tax improved considerably compared to last year.

Currency fluctuations have had a negative effect on our turnover by approximately five percent. Consequently, we have had a negative turnover in Swedish kronor, but in local currencies, we have had a growth of approximately four percent during the second quarter. It is rewarding to see that the revenue from license sales and maintenance has increased during the second quarter and that we are making money on the operating activities which enables a continued positive cash flow.

When it comes to our different markets we see that the region "US and the rest of the world" has had a strong quarter with an improved turnover of 29 percent compared to last year. Especially our Australian subsidiary has shown considerable growth, but also our Asian operations have had a good quarter.

We will continue to focus on increased sales and profitability. We have taken clear steps towards reaching our goals and we continue to be optimistic in front of the quarters to come."

The agreement means that Matrisen will market and sell ReadSoft’s cloud-based data capture solution, WEBEYE. The other strategic partner agreement was with Ricoh Europe. At the annual shareholders’ general meeting in April, the Board of Directors was re-elected for another period. The annual meeting also decided on a dividend of 0.15 SEK per share. This is the first dividend for ReadSoft since the IPO.
