Press Release:

Newport Beach, CA, April 6, 2001

Q-Sense AB - Gothenburg – Sweden, expands and forms its own US subsidiary Q-Sense Inc.

Q-Sense a Swedish developer of research instruments, has been active in the US since 1999, and has been a client of SwedeLinkCalifornia whose mission is to help young Swedish Companies to start their operations in the US.

“It has been a great advantage to us”, says the Q-Sense US President, Patrik Dahlqvist, “to have access to the knowledge of the US market which SwedeLinkCalifornia provides. We are now ready to take the next step in our expansion in the US”.

“Q-Sense has a very attractive technology to the US market and we are glad to have been of assistance to introduce Q-Sense and wish them good luck in their endeavors”, says the General Manager of SwedeLinkCalifornia, Theo Russo-Larsson.

Q-Sense develops, markets and sells research instruments for surface analysis based on a patented technology QCM-D. The technology was developed from research at Chalmers University, Gothenburg. The company was founded in 1996, and operates at Chalmers Innovation, a university incubator. Q-Sense has been operational in the US since 1999 and selected to work and operate with the help from SwedeLinkCalifornia. Q-Sense has been successful in introducing their technology and products in the US-market, as well as establishing reference centers at Harvard and Stanford universities.
