

Press Release
September 1, 2010
HQB Bank in liquidation

Information from HQB Bank

"An agreement for HQB Bank is, in my assessment, close," says liquidation lawyer Björn Riese.

This matter will be the subject of discussion and decisions by the affected boards during the day. It will also be discussed by the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority (Finansinspektionen).

The bank will remain closed during Wednesday. Some operations will be conducted according to the same principles as previously.

Plans are underway to open the bank on Friday morning.

Additional information will be provided during the day.