

HIQ NOMINATED TO BEST IT PROJECT OF 2010

HiQ has helped the Finnish recycling company Kuusakoski with the development of their IT-environment. A work that now is nominated as the best IT-project of 2010 in Finland.

HiQ has worked with Kuusakoski for two years to secure their software development. With a competent and specialized development team, HiQ has secured an effective and reliable process in everything from operational activities to administrative routines for Kuusakoski. This work has now resulted in HiQ being one of three companies nominated to Best IT project in Finland in 2010. The award is given out on March the 16th in the House of Finlandia in Helsinki.

- We have simplified our client's business and together we have achieved great results. It is great to get this attention. Of course we want to win the award, but being responsible for one of the best IT-projects in Finland in 2010 is a great success, says Jukka Rautio, CEO of HiQ Finland.
