MOBERG DERMA SIGNS LETTER OF INTENT FOR DISTRIBUTION IN THE UNITED STATES

Moberg Derma AB (publ) has entered into a letter of intent for distribution in the United States. The letter of intent includes Emtrix[®] – a product for treatment of discolored and deformed nails resulting from fungal infection (onychomycosis) or psoriasis. The intention is to give the distributor an exclusive right to market and sell Emtrix[®] in the U.S.

"Already the first quarter after launch, Emtrix[®] is the market leader the Nordics. This has increased interest from potential distributors in other markets. We hope to launch in the U.S. by the end of the year", comments Moberg Derma's CEO, Peter Wolpert.

About Emtrix[®] and nail diseases

Emtrix[®] is a prescription free, topical nail product and has the potential to become first-line treatment for common nail disorders. Launch of Emtrix[®] was initiated in the first markets in September 2010. Safety and efficacy has been demonstrated in several clinical studies including more than 500 patients. Emtrix[®] has a unique and rapid mechanism of action which brings visible improvements within 2-4 weeks of treatment.

Nail fungus is the most common nail disease and afflicts approximately 10% of the general population and is more common in the elderly. The estimated global market potential exceeds USD 1 billion. The untapped potential is significant since many patients remain untreated. It is generally recognized that there is a need for new efficacious and safe topical treatments.
