HiQ enters partnership with Multicom – increases its service offerings

The IT and management consultancy, HiQ, enters into a partnership with Multicom, a technology information consultancy. This co-operation will enable HiQ to increase its service offering and its presence in the Öresund region.

Multicom is an independent, recognised consultancy with offices in Malmö and Stockholm in Sweden as well as in Great Britain. Multicom works with many customers in the fields of telecoms and data communication as well as medical technology, such as Ericsson, Tetra Pak, OM, Gambro, Bombardier Transportation and C Technologies.

“Our business will be supplemented with services within the field of technical documentation, for example, product information and information analysis,” says Lars Stugemo, CEO of HiQ.

“HiQ’s and our services complement each other very well since we are specialized in technical information. We need a partner with a good track-record in order to do business with leading clients who aim at keeping down the number of suppliers,” says Bo Wingertz, CEO of Multicom.

“HiQ has worked with Multicom since 1995, and after a successful co-operation, it makes sense to deepen the relationship,” Stugemo continues.

HiQ is, since January 2000, represented in the Öresund region by the Danish subsidiary, HiQ Wise.

“The Öresund region is technology-intensive and many of HiQ’s major customers are established there. Our Danish subsidiary is already active throughout the Öresund region and the partnership with Multicom will complement our activities,” says Stugemo.
