

Enea Signs General Agreement with Leading Telecom Provider

Enea Realtime has signed a frame agreement with Ericsson. The agreement is a prolongation of the previous agreement.

The frame agreement is comprehensive and can be used in relation to all Ericsson companies within Enea Realtime's entire sphere of activities. The agreement gives Ericsson continued access to Enea's collective expertise within research and development (R&D).

“As a supplier, we are pleased to have Ericsson's continued confidence. It's an important confirmation of our close and good relationship,” says Peter Johansson, President at Enea Realtime. Enea Realtime will continue to offer its expertise to Ericsson throughout the entire development chain; from advanced systems analysis to total undertakings that include development and maintenance and specialist competence within real-time systems and applications.
