ProAct IT Group Swiss private Bank sets on security

A Swiss private bank with head office in Zurich, implements a new Disaster tolerant Backup solution distributed on two locations together with ProAct Datasystems AG. The customer is considered as one to the prominent, internationally transacts financial service and insurance companies. The private bank is specialized in the administration of an estate and investment advice for fastidious, private and institutional customers worldwide. Security has a large value with the private bank, also during the data retention.

The Legato Storage management application secures the information as well as simplifies the administration.

„With our experience of many years of large Backup- and Storage-integrations we can guarantee an efficient and successful operational sequence co-operation with the project team of the private bank. Close co-operation with the customer in workshops as well as an intensive project preparation are building blocks for the success“, says Stephan Schneider, Managing Director of the ProAct Datasystems AG.

With the implementing of the new Backup projects the private bank optimises the security and availability.
