Panasonic still a contender

The Vodafone live! Panasonic GD87 handset held its fourth place on Vodafone's sales list in January, where it was joined by another camera phone, the Sony Ericsson P800, which entered the list at number eight.

"The list now has a total of three mobile phones with photo capabilities – the Panasonic GD87 and the Sony Ericsson P800, which both have an in-built camera, and the Sony Ericsson T68i, which can be fitted with a camera. It is clear that growing interest in the use of pictures for communication is also being reflected in our mobile phone sales," says Tommy Sundström, Vodafone Sweden's Vice President and head of Vodafone's store chain in Sweden.

" Sony Ericsson's T200 model is hanging on to its place at the top of the list, a position it has occupied for some time now, while the Sony Ericsson T68i has taken a major step forward since December, due mainly to its price adjustment," he says.
