PRESS RELEASE

LGP Allgon to supply mobile coverage for the Olympics in Athens 2004

LGP Allgon, the global supplier of infrastructure solutions for mobile communications networks, has been appointed coverage solution provider of the Olympic Games in Athens 2004. The coverage solution is provided to Vodafone through LGP Allgon's distributor in Greece, Plural.

- It is a great privilege to provide the Olympics in Athens with mobile coverage, through our customized distributed radio technology. This confirms our world leadership in providing high quality solutions for complex and demanding environments, says Bengt Broman, CEO of LGP Allgon.

The coverage solution will include both indoor and outdoor areas, such as the administration centre and all sports arenas. The LGP Allgon coverage solution offers exceptional radio quality, being very cost efficient in limited spaces. These characteristics are crucial for coverage solutions in areas with many simultaneous mobile users. The solution is based on LGP Allgon's world leading RF-technology.

According to the agreement the deliveries will start immediately and will be finalized before the end of July 2004.
