

Ongame Network signs with Check n Raise Poker

Ongame Network, the world's third largest online poker network, owned by the Swedish Group Ongame, has won the approval of Check n Raise Poker. Check n Raise Poker.com is owned by Funtime Hospitality Corp and is a leader in the online gaming industry possessing an unmatched depth of experience in both online and traditional card rooms.

Funtime Hospitality Corp and Ongame Network have signed a licensing agreement that will enable for Check n Raise Poker to continue its fast growing on the online poker market.

Ongame Network consists of an exclusive group of premium partners, including PokerRoom.com, that drive customers into a shared pool of poker players. Each partner retains ownership of its own player database and continues to earn commission for the lifetime of the player as they compete across the network of nearly 6 million worldwide poker players.

Under the terms of the agreement Ongame Network will provide Check n Raise with a full service solution including first line support and payments together with a fully customized multiplayer poker application integrated into one of the world's largest and fastest growing poker networks. The agreement will enable Check n Raise to offer its rapidly growing customer base a wide choice of different poker games with plenty of action 24/7.

Patrik Selin, CEO of Ongame, commented, "Check n Raise has extensive experience in poker room management and marketing and we are delighted to have them as our customers. Together we will be able to attract new players to the network"

"We are very excited about moving to the Ongame Network," says Bill Kertes, CEO of Check n Raise Poker.com. "We feel that a solid, reliable software platform will allow us to do what we do great - that is create compelling player promotions! Poker players everywhere will find many reasons to play on Check n Raise Poker's site, as we will take great care of them by rewarding their play."
