

New acting CEO in Vittra

Jill Nilsson has been appointed acting CEO in Bures subsidiary Vittra. Jill Nilsson succeeds Vittra's founder Stig Johansson, who has built Sweden's most successful private school business.

Jill Nilsson is employed by Vittra since 2004, at the latest as divisional manager. Jill has earlier been Head of development in the municipality of Sollentuna, Head of Lemshaga Barnakademi, CEO for the foundation Carpe Vitam and Head of administration in the municipality of Lidingö.

At the same time Bure's chairman, Patrik Tigerschiöld, has been appointed new chairman for Vittra. Patrik Tigerschiöld succeeds Widar Andersson.

"Vittra have had significant impact on the development on private schools in Sweden, having a long-term owner in Bure, which is necessary in the school business. In the ongoing generational change it is natural for the owner to step in", says Widar Andersson, resigning chairman.
