Betway.com takes pride in giving our customers a greater value than the other major brands in the markets where we operate. Betway.com operates from Gibraltar under the Carmen Media Groups license. The operations are under supervision and control of the Gibraltar Government. Carmen Media was formed in 2002 and includes several successful brands that have been pioneering gaming and betting over the Internet from as early as 1997, at least a year ahead of almost every brand one can think of. This has made it possible to fine-tune and reach excellence in areas such as playing and betting experience, service and support, and security of both the various games as well as the protection of our customers' information and funds. The betting and gaming experience of the managers within the Carmen Media Group reaches back four generations.
