

Icelandair has chosen SAS Ground Services for ground handling

Icelandair has signed an agreement with SAS Ground Services (SGS) for ground handling. It covers services at the airports at Oslo and Bergen in Norway and Stockholm and Gothenburg in Sweden. Deicing service at Oslo airport is also included.

The new contract together with SGS' current services to Icelandair at Copenhagen and Helsinki airports entails approx. 2,100 departures per year.

"The choice of SAS Ground Services is based on that they have the right match between product, service and price", says Astthor Ingason, Manager Stations, Icelandair.

"We are proud that Icelandair again has chosen SAS Ground Services as supplier of ground handling, and we are very happy to be able to offer a product that matches the customer's demands in regards to price as well as quality", says Hans-Otto Halvorsen, President SAS Ground Services.

The contract will be effective from February 1, 2007.
