PRESS RELEASE 2007-03-01

Dometic acquires Waeco Group

The Swedish Dometic Group has acquired the German based, internationally operating WAECO Group, thereby strengthening its position as a global supplier of products for Recreation Vehicles and pleasure boats. Dometic's turnover after the acquisition of the Waeco Group will amount to 1000 MEUR and the number of employees will increase to approximately 5800.

– Dometic and Waeco is truly the perfect combination. Together we can provide a more complete selection of comfort products to the global leisure market, both to OEMs as well as directly to end-consumers through retailers. Not only our product ranges complement each other well, but also our manufacturing, sales and geographic strengths, says Lars Johansson, President and CEO of Dometic.

Waeco's products include portable cooling boxes for leisure applications, built-in refrigerators for cars and trucks, refrigerators for pleasure boats, air conditioning for recreation vehicles, a wide range of electronic accessories as well as numerous other products. Waeco has a strong position on the expanding aftermarket for comfort products for vehicles and boats through a well-established catalogue business and a large network of retailers. And above this, Waeco is an established supplier to the automotive industry. Waeco's main production facilities are located in China and the company also has smaller production facilities in Germany, Italy and Poland.

Dometic is a world leading supplier of refrigerators, kitchen equipment, windows, doors, sanitation systems and other comfort products to manufacturers of recreation vehicles, ie motorhomes and caravans, as well as larger pleasure boats. Dometic has approximately 20 production facilities around the world. Dometic and Waeco have strong positions in their respective market segments. Through the acquisition of Waeco, Dometic's range of products and operations becomes more complete.

– The key rationale behind the acquisition is to continue and extend our product range and growth and to create a company that on a global level can be a full range supplier of comfort products to all types of vehicles and boats, says Lars Johansson.

The acquisition has received approval from competition authorities on main markets.

Facts

Dometic is a Swedish company and is since long the leading global supplier of comfort products to recreation vehicles and larger pleasure boats. Besides refrigerators, Dometic offers other kitchen equipment, awnings, air conditioning systems, windows, doors, lights as well as numerous other products. Dometic also offers special refrigerators and other products to the healthcare sector and to the hotel industry.
