PRESS RELEASE

Mariana Burenstam Linder appointed head of Private Banking

Mariana Burenstam Linder has been appointed head of a newly established business area, Private Banking, which consists of SEB Enskilda Banken, for which Mariana Burenstam Linder will remain responsible, and International Private Banking.

“The SEB Group has a long tradition and extensive expertise within the private banking area. By creating our own business area, we will now be able to further develop our operations in Sweden and in Europe, which is one of our prioritized areas. It is the SEB Group’s clear ambition to grow within saving and asset management in Europe,” comments Mariana Burenstam Linder.

Private Banking, which has 40,000 customers, 650 employees, offices in 20 areas of Sweden and operations in London, Geneva and Luxembourg, manages approximately SEK 300 billion on behalf of its customers. SEB Private Banking's customers are private individuals, foundations and small companies with investable assets of SEK 1 million or more to invest.

Jointly with SEB Invest & Fonder and SEB Trygg Liv, Private Banking makes up the main group Asset Management & Life. SEB Executive Vice President Anders Mossberg is head of this group.
