Nexus Messaging Solutions launches new e-communication cloud service with office functions and promise:

Drastically reduced costs with neonInsight Office Suite

In times like these, cutting all unnecessary costs may seem obvious. neonInsight Office Suite is a step in the right direction for smarter work methods and reduced costs. The service is based on a secure and stable platform for business communication and offers equivalent functions to MS Exchange and MS Office – though at a considerably lower price. neonInsight Office Suite can be administered by the client company or used as an “in the cloud” service. There are no licence fees and you pay only for the services you actually use.

“The opportunity to save money is only one of several important aspects. neonInsight Office Suite is also of great interest to companies that consider e-communication critical to their business and demand a stable solution with high availability. We have seen clear indications of strong demand both in Sweden and internationally,” says Jan Wallgren, Managing Director of Nexus Messaging Solutions.

With 25 years of experience in the industry, Swedish company Nexus Messaging Solutions is now launching neonInsight Office Suite. Users will feel at home with both the interface and the functionality. You can even run Outlook without Exchange. In addition to e-communication, neonInsight Office Suite includes, for example, e-mail, groupware, chat and office functions, as well as an antispam and antivirus system with real-time updates. Access for mobile units is optional. neonInsight Office Suite is compatible with MS Office, which means users can work in different environments yet still communicate and exchange information without difficulty.

“Our surveys show that up to 90 percent of users currently running MS Office use less than 10 percent of the available functionality. You need good reasons to pay for functions that are never used,” Wallgren continues.

The neonInsight Office Suite service in brief:

- E-mail
- Groupware: calendar, contacts, tasks and notes
- Web client
- Antispam and antivirus
- neonInsight Open Office

- Instant Messaging (chat)
- Mobile access: e-mail, calendar and contacts synchronisation for iPhone, Sony Ericsson, Blackberry and others.

The basic package, excluding mobile access, is priced at approximately SEK 300 per year and user. The price includes upgrades to new versions, support and helpdesk access. Visit www.neoninsight.se for more information about neonInsight Office Suite.
