

Autoliv Announces Proposed Remarketing of Senior Notes due 2014

(Stockholm, March 2, 2012) – – – Autoliv, Inc. (“Autoliv,” NYSE: ALV and SSE: ALIV SDB) – the worldwide leader in automotive safety systems – announced today that it intends to remarket its 8% senior notes due on April 30, 2014 (“Senior Notes”) beginning on March 12, 2012. Upon a successful remarketing, the interest rate of the Senior Notes will be reset on or after March 15, 2012.

The Senior Notes are associated with the equity units that Autoliv issued on March 30, 2009. The remarketing provides an opportunity for debt investors to invest in Autoliv as well as an opportunity for Autoliv to lower its cost of borrowing.

The remarketing activity is expected to raise approximately $108 million.

The securities affected by this announcement are:

- Corporate Units (CUSIP No. 052800208)
- Any related 8% Senior Notes due 2014 (CUSIP No. 052800AA7)
- Any Treasury Units (CUSIP No. 052800307)

For up to three business days from March 12, 2012, Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC as remarketing agent (the “Remarketing Agent” or “Morgan Stanley”) will attempt to remarket the Senior Notes. The April 30, 2014 maturity date of the Senior Notes will not change as part of the remarketing.

For important additional details regarding the remarketing, please see below. In Sweden, the offer is only directed toward a limited number of qualified investors.

Remarketing Information

During the three-business day period commencing on March 12, 2012 (the “Early Remarketing Period”), and pursuant to a Remarketing Agreement, dated as of February 9, 2012, among Autoliv, U.S. Bank National Association, as the purchase contract agent (the “Purchase Contract Agent”), and the Remarketing Agent, Morgan Stanley will use its reasonable efforts to remarket (i) the Senior Notes that are components of the existing corporate units (the “Corporate Units”) or any Corporate Units recreated by holders of any treasury units (the “Treasury Units”) and (ii) any Senior Notes that are not part of the Corporate Units (the “Separate Notes”) and whose holders elect to have their Separate Notes remarketed. The Remarketing Agent will use its reasonable efforts to obtain a price for the remarketed Senior Notes that is no less than 100% of the sum of the purchase price for the remarketing Treasury portfolio and any amount due to holders of any remarketed Separate Notes (the “Remarketing Price”). The remarketing Treasury portfolio will consist of U.S. Treasury securities (or principal or interest strips thereof) that mature on or prior to April 30, 2012 in an aggregate amount at maturity equal to (i) the principal amount of the Senior Notes that are components of Corporate Units and (ii) the interest payment that would be due on April 30, 2012 on the principal amount of the Senior Notes that would have been components of the Corporate Units assuming no remarketing and no reset of the interest rate on the Senior Notes, which is expected to be approximately $2 million. If the Remarketing Agent is unsuccessful on the first day during such Early Remarketing Period, a subsequent remarketing will be attempted (unless impracticable) by the Remarketing Agent on each of the two following business days in that Early Remarketing Period until a successful remarketing occurs.

To obtain the Remarketing Price, the interest rate on the remarketed Senior Notes may be reset to the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent, in consultation with Autoliv. In addition, Autoliv has elected to add to the Senior Notes a covenant that will require Autoliv, subject to certain conditions, to offer to repurchase the Senior Notes if a “change of control” occurs. The maturity date of the Senior Notes, April 30, 2014, will not change as part of the remarketing.

The aggregate principal amount of the Senior Notes currently outstanding is $106,273,000, all of which were issued as components of the Corporate Units and will be subject to the remarketing unless holders of the Senior Notes opt out of the remarketing by either creating Treasury Units or early settling the purchase contract component of the Corporate Units. Accordingly, the total amount to be raised in the remarketing is expected to be approximately $108 million, which is the sum needed to purchase the remarketing Treasury portfolio. The Remarketing Agent will receive a fee of $500,000 in the event of a successful remarketing, which will be paid by the Company.

If the remarketing is successful, the remarketing is expected to settle on the third business day following the date of a successful remarketing, the earliest of which is expected to be on March 15, 2012 and, effective that date, the interest rate on the Senior Notes will be reset, the interest payment dates for the Senior Notes will be established, and any modification of the terms will apply to the Senior Notes.

If the remarketing is unsuccessful, the Senior Notes will continue to pay interest at the annual rate of 8% and subsequent remarketings may be attempted. If any subsequent remarketings are not successful, there will be a final remarketing conducted during the three-business day period commencing on April 23, 2012. If the final remarketing is also unsuccessful, the Senior Notes will continue to pay interest at the annual rate of 8% until maturity.

Autoliv has filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") for the Senior Notes to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents Autoliv has filed with the SEC for more complete information about Autoliv and the remarketing.
